

Go to sleep little baby

A question that unites all parents: How do I get my child to go to sleep – ideally in their own bed? "To achieve this, the child's own sleeping area needs to be just as cuddly, cosy and enticing as their parent's bed!", or at least that's what Ukrainian businesswoman Valentina Vasilieva believes. Together with designer Evgeniy Litvinenko, who has been blessed with some useful experience as a father, she has set about conceiving a range of children's beds that invite them to fall asleep, sleep through the night and stay asleep: Sleep.Onnn is the name of the brand under which her company Atelier Lilu sell a complete collection for children's bedrooms – from cupboards, chests of drawers and textile items through to the perfect beds for undisturbed children's dreams.

Heavenly

A bed with rabbit's ears in a sugar-sweet meringue pink? A heavenly nest for tired little mice? Or a blueberry penguin for bright-eyed adventurers? Sleep.Onnn furniture is popular with both young and old with its child-friendly designs and attention to detail. It stimulates children's imagination, inspires us with its Scandinavian chic and also performs well when it comes to functionality: designer Litvinenko has spent a lot of time analysing the needs of both children and parents. He has created a set of designs that not only meet the most demanding of requirements in terms of safety and comfort, but also reflect the individual character of each child. The beds can be configured in various different ways according to preference, and can be put together in various combinations and sizes. Their rounded-off corners and upholstered guard rails mean that adults won't need to watch over the children all the time. To complete the range, there are also some carefully considered storage solutions for toys, books and clothing.

Never tired

All the furniture has one thing in common – the high-quality materials that are used: the company is based in Kyiv and attaches great importance to ensuring eco-friendly products and manufacturing methods. That's why Sleep.Onnn always uses coatings by ADLER, which the company sources through their long-standing and enthusiastic ADLER trading partner Living Wood. The wooden components are coated with the coloured paint ADLER Pigmpur G50 followed by a coat of the matting agent Pigmofix M to achieve the especially elegant matt effect of the furniture. The powdery pastel shades from ADLER's 1200 collection will have even those children who are "never tired" floating gently off to the land of sweet dreams.
